P-T. A. Membership Drive Still On

This is to remind you that the Central School P-T. A. Membership Drive is still on and has another week to run. The P-T. A. wants your membership; it wants your cooperation. So join it once it you have not already done so.

Could it be that the parents and especially the mothers are not fully acquainted with the purpose, aim and objectives of the P-T. A.? Raising children is a great problem but is also a sacred privilege, and a parent can't learn too much about it. There is so much to be gained by intercommunication with other parents and this a parent may have by attending the monthly meetings of the local organization. Each child is a separate individual. Each parent's problem or problems is different. So meet in friendly groups and talk these problems over. Then too attending the P-T. A. as a member gives an added impetus to your child to be on time and regular in attendance at school. Try it and see. Join the P-T. A. which does everything for the child and for the inexperienced parents. Attend the meetings and study the work of the organization. Wouldn't it be a nice climax to the drive to find every parent of every child enrolled in Bay High, Webb and Taylor Schools a member of the Central School P-T. A.

By Beverly and Joy Report cards for the High School were distributed Friday, October 17th, by Mother Blanche who visited each class in turn. Following the distribution of report cards the seniors and juniors met in the gym to choose cheer leaders for the S. J. A. football team. The girls selected were Beona Del Rio, Jeanne Arceneaux, and Kay Ford.

The meeting took place at the Sacred Heart Academy. The purpose of this meeting was to reorganize and elect officers for the Coast Union Sodality for the session of 1947. A., treasurer.

Rock-A-Chaws Trample Picayune

Given only a slight chance to win, Stanislaus Rocks unleashed a powerful running and passing attack to down a strong Picayune team 20-0. It took the locals 12 minutes to find themselves, during which time Picayune threatened twice. During the second quarter Stanislaus blocked a quick kick on the visitors 25 yard line and scored 4 plays later on a long pass. Their second tally came after an eighty yard drive without losing possession of the ball.

By virtue of this win, the Rocks will rank high among the South Mississippi teams and with the fine running of Millette and Friis they should remain as threats to any team.

On Sunday, October 27, in New Orleans, the Rocks visit Jesuit High for an afternoon tilt to be played at City Park Stadium.

Mrs. George Stevenson and Miss Carol Stevenson attended the show in New Orleans given by Miss Doris Conlan. Miss Conlan is one of the bride-elects of the fall and is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson.

SINCE November 1st of each year is known as All Saints' Day and a time set aside especially when special tribute is paid to the memory of the dead; when the public visits the cemeteries and decorates the graves with flowers and religious ceremonials is the order of the afternoon time of the Day, and it is fitting that one and all visit the "cities of the dead" and pay respect by their visit and in prayerful solicitation.

Dr. Bedford F. Floyd Speaks Before Rotary Club

At the Bay St. Louis Rotary luncheon, Dr. Bedford F. Floyd, local physician and Rotarian gave a most interesting talk on Navy Day which is observed on October 27 each year and was originally sponsored by the Navy League of America an organization of civilians interested in our Navy, and that specific day was chosen because on that day in 1775 a bill was introduced in the Continental Congress to build ships for the defense of the American Colonies.

Navy Day has been observed since 1922 and has served to bring the Navy before the American people. In a democracy such as ours every instrument of the Government is of prime importance of the people, and the size and strength of the Navy in the final analysis depends on the will of the electorate. For this reason it is vital that we know the problems of our peace time Naval organization.

At the beginning of hostilities the Naval Arm was composed of less than three million tons of ships and 50,000 planes. This force was trained and was of such importance to the enemy that their strategy was based on a crippling blow to our surface fleet. This was so successful that we had to fight a defensive war until we could mobilize the men and build the necessary ships. At the conclusion of the war we had more than 13 million tons of ships and 40,000 planes which together with the Marine Corps comprised the mightiest fighting force the world has ever seen. This fleet covered the seas of the world and played a part in every military operation that we engaged in.

Today, we find our Navy at its authorized strength of 500,000 men with the majority of our powerful fleet relegated to the moth ball reserves. Our active fleet is but a fraction of the armada which carried our flag a year ago. But that fraction is still the most powerful naval force in existence and is capable of instant action.

That the peace of the world can best be secured by a democratic nation which has the force and the will to act is in my opinion, a basic fact, and the Navy with its air arm will be an important factor in any war.

It is the responsibility of the United States as a leading world power not only to initiate measures that will impose peace but maintain the force necessary to guarantee that those measures be enforced. A strong Navy can avert war, and is a guardian against war. Our sea air arm, along with its marine amphibious troops, should be maintained at adequate strength and constant readiness. Let us create the conditions that make for peace—let us wage peace by supporting the Navy, for your Navy can guarantee a safe tomorrow.

During the recent war Dr. Floyd was Commander in the Branch of the Medical Navy Air Arm.

Crump Farm Publicized

In last Sunday's Times-Picayune there appeared a fine article with pictures showing several phases of farm work and cattle raising carried on by Mr. James L. Crump at his farm on Jordan River.

Widely known in South Mississippi and Louisiana for his fine Braford cattle, improved pastures, and beautiful camellia plants, Mr. Crump is taking serious interest in publicizing his adopted county.

Hancock countians can well be proud of this farm and the experiments carried on there.

—News has been received here by Mr. Alexander Allison of the safe arrival in China of his daughter-in-law Mrs. Andrew Allison. Mrs. Allison sailed with 400 missionaries on board the Marine Lynx which docked at Shanghai on October 15.

LITTLE THEATER PRESENTS COMEDY

Bouquets to Director Margaret Dodge and an excellent Little Theater cast, who are finishing with tonight's performance a five-night presentation of Noel Coward's "Hay Fever!" Star of the show, in a role played on Broadway by such actresses as Laura Hope Crews and Ina Claire, was Mrs. Bea Smith, whose interpretation of Judith Bliss delighted every audience, but equally delightful were the other three members of her Bohemian and slightly mad family—lovely Sorel, trying so hard to improve her family's eccentricities (Virginia Seal); artistic and utterly capricious Simon, whose difficult part called for real stage abandon (Carl Smith, Jr.); and sex-novelist David, alternately exasperated and inspired by the antics of his wife and children (Alvin Weinfurter). The only really sane members of the cast were the Cockney maid Clara (and there might easily be doubts about Clara, too!) and the four house guests. Mrs. Adaline Knoblock stole many a scene as Clara; David McDonald and Dennis Tonkel grew increasingly bewildered and uncomfortable as Judith's and Sorel's unwilling admirers; Mrs. Ruth Ferrell glittered as the seductive Myra Arundel; and Mrs. Lucile McDonald pouted to perfection as the disappointed flapper, Jackie Coryton. The charming living-room setting was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Noel Coward's typically hilarious lines and zany situations, coupled with the professional directing of Mrs. Margaret Dodge and the wholehearted cooperation of the entire cast are making "Hay Fever" a play to remember!

Tonight's final performance will begin at eight o'clock, and tickets may still be obtained at deMontulzin's Drug Store. Audiences thus far have included visitors from Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian, Waveland, Picayune, Pearlport and New Orleans. The Little Theater is making a name for itself that Bay St. Louis may well point to with pride, and it seems safe to predict a bigger and better theater season here in 1947.

TO THE NAVY ON NAVY DAY

ON October 27, the people of this country are supposed to observe Navy Day and the occasion is marked in naval establishments by special provisions to permit civilians to view warships and port facilities.

This year, the Navy finds its activities tremendously curtailed from the stupendous exertions of the recent wars. Hundreds of ships are being "reserved" for future use, if necessary, in defense of the country. Thousands of officers and men have left the service of the fleet and returned to civilian life after a job well done.

The history of the war in the Pacific, which resulted in such a signal victory over Japan is largely a recital of the achievements of the Navy. After Pearl Harbor, when the Japs delivered their surprise attack, the American fleet was woefully insufficient for the job at hand. For months, our sailors were on the defensive, opposed by superior force, but the spirit of the men who manned the ships was always daringly offensive.

With the battle of Guadalcanal in the summer of 1942, the Navy took the offensive after setting up advance bases in and around Australia. The landing at Guadalcanal and the subsequent campaign in the Solomons was the first step in the process of rolling back the Japanese advance. From the completion of the campaign in the Solomons, there was a steady and progressive advance.

It should be borne in mind that the fleet could not operate in the far regions of the Pacific without adequate bases. This made necessary a stupendous construction job, involving the creation of advance bases and the extension of long supply lines. Gradually the work was completed and the fleet began its offensive against the island chains in the Pacific, eventually reaching Okinawa and finally going into the port of Japan for the initial surrender.

More spectacular, perhaps, than the surprising capture of Japanese-held islands, was the steady attrition that cut down the Japanese merchant fleet. Our submarines, in particular, were deadly in their execution and surface ships aided in the destruction of Japanese vessels. The air force was not without activity in this respect, but the major destruction was inflicted upon the enemy shipping by our submarines.

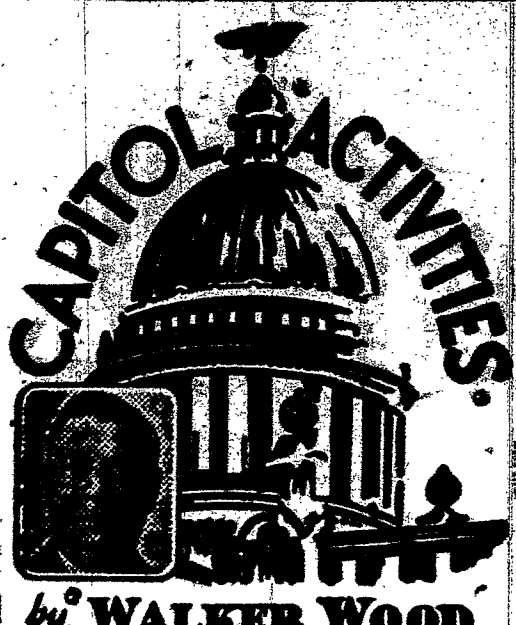

The positions seized by the fleet, coupled with the sinking of Japanese ships, eventually isolated the home islands of Japan from the area she conquered in the early days of the war. The arrogant empire of the Mikado could not reinforce or supply advanced positions and neither could the Japanese fleet bring about a successful withdrawal. The blockade eventually reached into the Sea of Japan and actually jeopardized the line of communications from Japan to the China mainland.

Even before the first atomic bomb fell on the citizens of Hiroshima, the Japanese leaders had lost hope of winning the war. In fact, peace overtures had been made in Moscow. The Japanese had been whipped, and knew it, before the atomic bomb dropped and before the Russians entered the great struggle. While the Army participated in some of the hard fighting necessary to oust the Japanese from conquered areas, successful accomplishment of our war objectives was dependent, in the main, upon the positions won by the fleet, the bases established in advanced areas and the long line of supply which was protected from the enemy.

With the war behind us, the nation, through its Congress and elected officials, must determine what its policy will be in the future. It is necessary for us, as a people, to understand the functions of a modern Navy and the manner in which it exerts inexorable pressure against an enemy in time of war. Never again must the United States allow itself to be caught without adequate fleets to protect its interests and to safeguard its security whether the attack comes from both oceans at the same time.

In connection with the above sentiment, it is necessary to take cognizance of the development of the atomic bomb. It is, of course, too early to conclude that the day of the warship has passed. Improvements in design and the development of new weapons, such as a long-range rocket or atomic projectile, make it likely, in the opinion of experts, that technical advances will make it possible for warships to maintain their function on the seas.

Regardless of our opinion as to the future, there should be no dissent as to the past. The nation should be happy and proud to salute its Navy on Navy Day and to give praise to the fighting men of the fleet, who, in the day of peril, did not shirk from their appointed task. To them, as a people, we owe a debt of gratitude that is only equalled by the similar debt we owe to the fighting men of the Army and the Air Corps.

CONFEDERATES

The Re-union of Confederate Veterans was held in Biloxi last week, Monday and Tuesday. It is said that in all the States only one hundred and ten Confederate Veterans are now living out of the six to eight hundred thousand which composed the Army of the Sixties. A late report of the State Auditor shows fifteen soldiers on the pension roll in this state, but some may have died since that roll was made up. Only a few brief years ago the Confederate Re-union was the biggest annual occasion in the South.

ATOMIC RESEARCH

Several days ago, Governor Thomas L. Bailey took up with the Navy the matter of having a part of the research and investigation about the atomic development made in Mississippi. It seems that the Navy has at its disposal an appropriation of $45,000,000 to carry on the research program and Gov. Bailey would like to have some of that money spent in Mississippi. Gov. Bailey will follow up his suggestion to the Navy and may be able to have some of the work done in this state.

SAFETY PROGRAM

Commissioner Bradley of the Highway patrol is planning to institute a rigid safety program on the highways and city streets of Mississippi. He points out that already three hundred and six people have been killed in traffic accidents in this state since the first of January, 1946, while only one hundred and seventy-nine were killed in the state in the entire year of 1945. In this movement Mr. Bradley should have the cooperation of all officials and all citizens.

Meeting of Mississippi Association of School Administrators, Oct. 30-31

Jackson, Miss., October 19 (Special): The Mississippi Association of School Administrators will hold their annual state-wide convention on Wednesday and Thursday, October 30-31 at the Robert E. Lee hotel, Jackson, according to State Superintendent J. M. Tubb. Five sessions will be conducted this year not including the group meetings for the various school and college divisions. The program this year, according to Mr. Tubb, will be framed around questions of immediate concern to Mississippi school administrators.

Practically all of those appearing on the program are state leaders in education, who are conversant with the school situation now existing in our local districts and counties. The officers in charge of this 1946 Association Convention are: G. W. Bee-man, County Superintendent of Lauderdale County, Meridian, President; W. Zack Huggins, Supt. of Quitman Schools, Quitman, Vice-President; and E. R. Jobe, Executive Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning, Jackson, Secretary-Treasurer.

Main Navy Recruiting Station in Jackson To Close

The main Navy Recruiting Station in Jackson will close not later than 30 November, 1946, said Lt. R. R. Davis, USN, in a statement issued today.

In line with other Federal expenditures reductions, the Navy Recruiting Service is reorganizing so as to continue the necessary amount of recruiting on a reduced budget allowance. Though the main station here is no longer needed in its present capacity, recruiting activities in this area will not be brought to a standstill, but will be carried on by three recruiters with their office located in room 501, Post Office Building, Jackson and with their main office located in New Orleans.

Established in July, 1942 and placed in commission by Lt. J. F. Norris, Jr., USNR (the first officer in charge), the station has been successfully headed by Lt. W. C. Dalrymple, USNR, and by Lt. R. R. Davis, USN, who relieved Mr. Dalrymple as commanding officer on 9 September, 1946. During the period of its existence, this station enlisted thousands of young men from Mississippi for active duty in both the Regular Navy and in the Naval Reserve.

Present plans call for the retention of three recruiters now on duty at this station. These men are: F. S. Schooley, Chief Machinist's Mate, USN (in charge); W. J. Stamper, Chief Torpedoman, USN; and M. H. Cain, Chief Quartermaster, USN who will carry on recruiting activities in this area.

The remainder of the station complement, said Mr. Davis, will receive orders for transfer to various other Naval activities for duty.

Veterans On-The-Job Training Division

Jackson—The State of Mississippi Veterans On-The-Job Training Division is now requesting certain information not previously asked for from training establishments in order to either approve or to continue previous approval in compliance with present laws and regulations. H. O. Anderson, State Director, announced today. This state agency is responsible for the approval of all business establishments desiring to give on-the-job training to veterans of World War II in Mississippi under provisions of Public Laws 346 and 679, he said.

Instructions, application and training program forms are being mailed to over 11,000 business establishments in Mississippi and we are requesting that this information be submitted to our state office immediately, the State Director pointed out. "Applications for approval or supplements, training programs and other information requested from establishments formerly temporarily approved should be submitted to this office within 30 days of date shown thereon or former approval will be cancelled," Mr. Anderson said.

The permanent approval or disapproval of business establishments training veterans on-the-job in Mississippi vitally effects 19,686 former service men and women now in training and it is of utmost importance that we have the full cooperation of all establishments participating in this program, he said.

will again mark memorial services on Navy Day, Sunday, October 27 for all persons who died at sea during World War II, Eighth Naval District Headquarters announced here today.

Participants were asked to send one blossom or bud, preferably wild or home grown, and to avoid sending flowers purchased for more than a modest sum.

Flowers received at designated ports before midnight, Saturday, Oct. 26, will be put aboard Navy ships or planes and scattered over the oceans in expression of the sentiments of a grateful world.

Appropriate all-faith services will be held before the take-off and ships and planes will proceed out of sight of land to scatter their floral offerings, the Navy said.

Sponsored by the Navy League, official sponsor of Navy Day, the ceremony will be observed in the continental limits and in Alaska, Pearl Harbor, Guam, Manila, San Juan, the Canal Zone, Samoa and the Virgin Islands. Flowers from the United States will not be delivered to ports overseas since ports outside the continental limits have been designated for local observances only, the Navy explained.

In the eight states of the Eighth Naval District (Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Texas and extreme North-west Florida) the ports of Mobile, Ala., Corpus Christi, Texas and Pensacola, Fla., have been designated as receiving spots for flowers. Blossoms should be sent in care of the Senior U. S. Navy Chaplain at the closest of the three ports, district officials said.

Examination For Coal Mine Inspectors

The Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Coal Mine Inspectors to fill positions in the various coal mining sections throughout the United States. The salaries range from $3,397 to $5,905 a year.

For the grade CAF-7 (-3,397) positions, applicants must have had at least 5 years of experience in practical coal mining. At least 2 of the 5 years must have been specialized experience which included direct supervision of workers engaged in coal mining operations, and general responsibility for the safety and health of such workers. This specialized experience must have been in a capacity such as mine foreman, assistant mine foreman, mining engineer, or safety inspector, and must have demonstrated the applicant's initiative and ability to perform the duties of a coal mine inspector under supervision. The higher-grade positions require additional experience involving greater responsibility.

No written test will be given, but all persons applying will be required to submit with their applications a 250-word description of some phase of coal mining. Applicants must not have passed their forty-eighth birthday on the closing date of receipt of applications.

Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington office not later than November 7, 1946.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary, Mr. Andy Becker, located at Post Office or from most first and second class

Shortage of Competent Stenographers and Typists

Although the war has been over for some time and heavy cuts have been made in Federal personnel, a shortage of competent stenographers and typists still exists in the Federal Service according to A. J. Leach, Regional Director, Tenth U. S. Civil Service Region, New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. Leach said that in Civil Service examinations held in June for these positions, 6500 persons applied in Louisiana and Mississippi but less than 50% qualified. As a result, his office has again announced an open competitive examination for these positions in an effort to secure sufficient qualified persons to fill vacancies and to replace war time appointees serving in the Federal Service in Louisiana and Mississippi. The majority of the positions to be filled from the examination pay $1954 per annum both for stenographers and typists. Some positions may be filled at salaries above and below this level.

No specific experience or education is required but applicants must pass a written examination, which includes a general test as well as a performance test for typing and shorthand. The stenographic dictation will be at the rate of 96 words a minute.

Age requirements are waived for applicants entitled to veteran preference and, under certain conditions, for war service indefinite employees. Other applicants must have reached their 18th birthday and must not have passed their 62nd birthday.

Preference will be given veterans who qualify in the examination, particularly to disabled veterans whose names will be placed at the top of the eligible list.

Further information and necessary application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary at any first or second class post office in Louisiana and Mississippi or from the Tenth Civil Service Region, Customhouse, New Orleans, La. Applications must be received in the Tenth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office in New Orleans not later than November 4, 1946.

New Postal Regulations For Sending Letters and Parcels To Soldiers Overseas

Under new postal regulations you can send your soldier overseas letters or parcels weighing from eight ounces to 70 pounds by airmail, depending on where he is serving. Major George F. Heinz, Postal Officer, Seventh Army, said today.

Formerly, airmail addressed thru Army Post Office numbers, care Postmasters in New York or San Francisco, was limited to two ounces. That weight for letters or parcels has now been raised to eight ounces.

Parcels not to exceed 70 pounds in weight may be sent to military personnel or civilians entitled to an APO number, in care of Postmasters in Miami, Fla.; New Orleans, La., or Seattle, Wash.

The wide difference in weights acceptable at the various ports is explained by the number of military personnel serving in various theaters and the distances involved. New York it is stated handles the European theater mail. San Francisco handles letters and parcels addressed to personnel in the Pacific, Hawaii, the Philippines, Korea and Japan. From these two ports the limit by airmail is eight ounces.

Seattle, Wash. handles mail to the Alaskan area. Miami, Fla., serves the Antilles Department and points in South America. New Orleans handles mail for the Panama Canal Zone, Ecuador and Peru. These, being comparatively short hauls by air, permits airmail parcels up to 70 pounds, Major Heinz explained.

Enlistments in the new Regular Army have surpassed War Department expectations with the result that the draft has been suspended for the balance of the current year. The Army still has many opportunities open to young men in Bay St. Louis and they would do well to investigate the possibilities of an Army career.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I served only four months in the army before I got a dependency discharge. Now I'm in need of an operation. Am I eligible to enter a Veterans hospital?

A. Yes, any veteran is eligible for hospitalization at a VA hospital providing he served at least 90 days in the armed forces and that his discharge is other than dishonorable. However, to be treated for non-service connected ailments, you must sign a statement that you are financially unable to pay for private treatment.

Q. Can a veteran be cared for in a private hospital at the expense of the government?

A. Yes, provided the ailment was incurred in or aggravated by service in the armed forces and prior authorization is obtained from VA regional office. In the case of female veterans, the ailment need not be service-connected.

Q. Can I be treated at a VA hospital for malaria that didn't evidence itself until after I was discharged from the Army?

A. Yes, The VA rules that malaria may be service connected even though no attacks occurred prior to the veteran's release from service. Therefore, you may be hospitalized in a private hospital if an emergency or in a VA hospital. Out-patient medical treatment may also be authorized. If your illness is serious enough, you may also file a disability claim.

Q. Is a veteran's family entitled to care in a VA hospital?

A. Not unless they have attained eligibility in their own right by reason of service in the armed forces.

Q. May I be furnished a wheelchair by the VA?

A. Yes, if you have a service-connected disability requiring the use of one.

Q. May an honorably discharged member of the WAC obtain hospital treatment and domiciliary care in a VA facility?

A. Yes. Former members of the WAC, as well as any other women's organization in the armed forces, are entitled to the same treatment as male veterans.

Since V-J Day the number of patients in Veterans Administration hospitals of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi has increased 42 per cent. VA medical service officials report. The total on V-J Day was 5,296 compared with 7,503 on September 30th of this year.

The number of patients in VA hospitals throughout the nation has increased 29 per cent since the Japanese surrender. To meet the mounting need for veterans' hospitalization, VA will construct nine new hospitals in the tri-state Dallas branch during the next two and one half years.

BROTHER MARCIAN GOES TO METUCHEN FROM STANISLAUS

Brother Marcan, popular fourth grade teacher, has departed from our midst in order to receive medical treatment at the Alexian Brothers' Hospital in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

This decision was reached after Brother Marcan was under doctor's treatment for over a month without any apparent relief. It was also noted that the local climate was not conducive for his recovery.

As a result, he was ordered to the North where the cool, dry air will prove more beneficial. His medical care will be of the best and it won't be long before he will be his former self and possibly return to our midst.

The faculty and student body take this opportunity of assuring him of their prayers for a swift recovery.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1941.

This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer of his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—too grateful for your patience and understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING

Meanwhile, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals. Remember—cold weather is hardest on old cars. Please see us for a complete check-up today. . . . And, again, thank you!

CONCRETE ROADS Serve for Many Years At Low Annual Cost

Concrete pavements generally carry the heaviest traffic. Yet their annual maintenance cost is far lower than any other pavement intended for similar service. And the rugged strength and stamina of concrete assure long life—many years of all-weather service without interruptions for frequent repairs or rebuilding.

Compare construction costs too, and you'll find that concrete pavement usually costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.

So with long life, low maintenance expense and economical first cost, concrete is easily the best investment for motorists' gasoline tax money, assuring as it does, low annual cost—the true measure of pavement economy.

Want a Vacation from Marriage?

Alvin Blake went south on his vacation, for some fishing, and left his Missus to enjoy a vacation from the corn-cob pipe, clothes in a heap, and solos on the harmonica.

First few days, Martha enjoyed it—house neat and quiet, top back on the toothpaste, no morning mess from Alvin's midnight snacks (Al's partial to a bit of cheese and beer at bedtime).

Come the end of the week, she began to fidget; couldn't even read the Clarion, it looked so unmussed; didn't have any appetite, with no body to cook for. She was about to wire Al, when he barges home a week ahead of time, and she almost cries for gratitude. "Felt the same way myself," says Al.

From where I sit, those differences of habit and opinion—whether they have to do with corn-cob pipes, a glass of beer, or playing the harmonica, seem mighty trivial when you're separated. And they are, too!

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Miss Mary Margaret Thomas was honored at a linen and lingerie shower given by her friends and relatives on Monday, at which Mesdames Ed Ortle and Russell Elliott were co-hostesses.

Beside the bride-elect's chair stood a table decorated with pink and white crepe paper, the center of which was a huge heart. Through the middle of the heart lay a pink ribbon which extended to the floor and when pulled drew out a tray filled with many lovely and useful gifts.

The dining table covered with an exquisite lace cloth was centered by a bowl filled with bridesmaid roses, baby daisies and asparagus fern. From the chandeliers, streamers of baby ribbon and fern formed a picturesque cascade.

A delicious plate lunch was served with individual cakes on which were pink and white rosebud decorations.

Miss Thomas wore a shell pink crepe silk afternoon gown. She was presented a shoulder corsage of pink and white rosebuds by Mrs. Elliott. Included among the guests were Mrs. John Thomas, mother of the honoree and Mrs. J. Gavagnie, mother of the groom.

DANCE GIVEN IN HONOR OF MISS KESLER FIELD OF 1946

An evening of distinctive entertainment was the formal dance given at Kesler Field honoring Miss Margie Elliott, Miss Kesler Field of 1946, on Wednesday evening.

The King, A. J. Pietro of New York, and Queen and their Court of seven maids and dukes entered the auditorium to the strains of "The Army Air Corps" traditional song. When the court was assembled, Miss Kesler Field was presented an arm bouquet of exquisite Chrysanthemums. After which the Grand March proved a very picturesque highlight of the evening.

Miss Elliott wore a white brocade gown on the Princess lines with low off the shoulder neckline and a shoulder corsage of dark red rose buds and silver ribbon which was presented to her by Miss Frances Faucetta, in behalf of the Bay St. Louis girls. Both the king and queen wore crowns that glistened in the soft glow of the decorative lights.

The maids were young ladies chosen from each Coast City and were attired in beautiful and colorful taffeta, satin and velvet gowns.

The King was chosen by drawing, as Miss Elliott preferred to show no partiality. And the dukes were enlisted men.

The auditorium was decorated with red, white and blue streamers with large circles of the same colors adorning the ceiling and subdued lighting threw a mellow glow over the dancing couples.

Special appreciation was extended to Mrs. J. H. Beaman, Lieutenant S. Giles, member of "The Sky-liners," Kesler Field Band for their time and efforts to make the evening one long to be remembered.
